Germany Now Launching Another Attack Against Warsaw From the Northward

New Blow at Polish Capital Preceded by Terrific Bombardment—Germans Claim That Teutonic Forces Have Crossed Dniester and Have Driven Russians Some Miles Into Hills—In West Minor Movements Continue—Bombardments on Both Sides But No Important Movement Apparent

LONDON, June 27.—The Russians are again retreating in Galicia, both to the north and south, and in Poland the Germans have launched another attack against Warsaw in the form of a drive from the north through Prasnaya. The new blow at the Polish capital has been preceded by a terrific bombardment. The fact is recorded by the Russian themselves, but it is too early to say whether it marks a serious offensive the first clash having developed into a tactical encounter, the result of which neither side could claim.

Neither Berlin nor Vienna make reference to the conflict in this regard, but continue their efforts to confirm the Russian reports of the Galician advance, while Russian correspondents in various sectors from the Bessarabian frontier to Hlava Riechen of Lemberg. What is more important, the Germans say that the Teutonic forces have crossed the Dniester at Lubow, and have driven the Russians some miles into the hills.

Big Push Now Against Warsaw.—The general consensus of opinion among military writers in London is that Germany is now making a big push against Warsaw, and that the offensive will be directed against the city from the north. The line of the offensive now directed against the city from the north is the village of the Omulaw and Orzez, which is about 20 miles from Warsaw. The line of the offensive now directed against the city from the north is the village of the Omulaw and Orzez, which is about 20 miles from Warsaw.

In the west the minor movements to and fro were continued by a German advance of a few hundred yards in the north of Arns, ending in a tactical hold on the Orzez. The advance was made by the Germans, and preceded by a violent bombardment. The German advance was made by the Germans, and preceded by a violent bombardment. The German advance was made by the Germans, and preceded by a violent bombardment.

Not since the war began has the English public seen an advance of this kind. The advance was made by the Germans, and preceded by a violent bombardment. The German advance was made by the Germans, and preceded by a violent bombardment.

While the campaign for munitions in this country is still in progress, it must be assumed that Germany is in a position to continue the advance and calling into play her inventive skill so as to increase the deadly men-

The Licensed Victuallers' association is a menace to clean life in the province of Alberta. It is seeking to cut the grip of public decency; it is conducting a campaign that is political and selfish on a foundation that is known to be false; it is seeking to use the weapons of misrepresentation and intimidation, to beguile its representatives are seeking to bring discredit and the expenditure of money. The liquor act will open no channel for the use of liquor that is not open to the public, and the liquor act will open no channel for the use of liquor that is not open to the public.

MONDAY, JUNE 28, 1915.

Germany cannot kill the bear, but it can exhaust it trying.

The enemy has been wasting more ammunition on Dunkirk.
Seemingly he has no fear of running short of shells.

If the responsible portion of the city's population do not register the irresponsible element will prevail next year and what amount of taxes will have to be paid.

Mr. J. Horne Payne looks for a steady improvement in Canadian conditions. His view is reasonable. We are told that everything in the world goes either forward or backward, and there does not seem to be much room for further backward going.

Hon. G. R. Caldwell, who has been discussed, river Hon. Robert Rogers, that he had better "protect" himself. Was it in response to this warning that the officials of the G. N. W. destroyed the telegrams which passed between the members of the late Manitoba government and Mr. Rogers?

The cruiser Roxborough was struck by a torpedo in the North sea on Sunday, but not disabled.
The admiralty, it seems, still persist in using "tin pots" in the North sea, to the disgust of eminent Canadian naval authorities connected with papers opposed to the spending of Canada's naval appropriations in the construction of a Canadian navy.

A year ago the taxpayer was told that the tenant had a right to vote in civic elections because he really paid taxes indirectly in paying rent, and because in paying for a ride on the street railway he contributed to its revenue.
Now the tenant does not pay tax interest on the cost of the property he occupies, to say nothing about himself, and in a good many cases he rides in a jitney. He has no taxes power to help elect the aldermen who spend the taxes paid by the property owner, and who manage the street railway whose losses the property owner has to make up. Is that a square deal between man and man?

The Saskatchewan legislature is considering legislation to prevent unscrupulous machinery agents swindling farmers. When legislation with a similar object was passed in Alberta a few years ago the threat was raised that the implement firms would stop selling to the Alberta farmer except for cash. Nothing of the kind occurred. It could not have occurred unless the implement firms generally were guilty of the offences aimed at. By staying in business they proclaimed that they were business men and not crooks. Similar results will no doubt follow in Saskatchewan if the legislation there is so devised that only the guilty will suffer.

Toronto Telegram: "Old country workers are today paying more for food than they have ever paid before the 'hungry forties.' Yet old country workers are today more prosperous than at any previous time in the industrial history of the United Kingdom. Although the employment and increased wages enables the people to pay more for their food and still prosper as they could not under counter-drawers in a free trade paradise.
England's workers will never willingly return to a free trade basis of wages. The Tories have jumped the track in the middle of the last division. If it wants to be foolish enough to draw a conclusion for general application from the promises of war conditions it will have to be that England's workers will never willingly return to peace and the stoppage of the outpouring of borrowed money.

The memory of last year should be sufficiently vivid to cause every man and woman who wants the city government next year to register. It is vivid enough in the minds of those who want a return of last year's conditions to cause them to register.

The women's organizations and church organizations of the city were not found to fail last year when a fight had to be made for clean government. They have another and equally large opportunity, and responsibility, before them now to aid in maintaining the conditions they helped to fight for last year. They must help men and women who have not yet registered to go and do it.

It is up to the Edmonton suffragees. Every woman in the city who is a British subject and twenty-one years of age is entitled to a vote at the civic elections this fall—provided she goes to the office and registers before next Wednesday evening. It is for those who claim that the woman's vote is what is needed to redeem politics and conserve social conditions to see that the women turn out and register.

An enemy spy has been shot in London. If similar punishment were inflicted upon those in Canada who are found guilty of bomb outrages, helping enemies across the border, and other acts of treason, there would be no occasion and less demand for the interment of people whose only offence is that they happen to have been born in Austria or to have German names. The acts of a few criminals have put thousands of Canadian residents under unwarranted suspicion, and led to official severity in some parts of the country. The easiest and fairest way of dealing with the situation is to shoot the proven criminals, and thus make an end of the crimes and relieve the innocent of suspicion.

When W. F. Garland, M.P., and
A. De Witt Foster, M.P., were "read out of the party" by Sir Robert Borden a couple of scores of admiring newspapers, could the authors of the article have imagined the exalted ideals of a premier who refused to disgrace his government by recognizing two such characters as his last supporters?
Now Mr. Garland risks to remark that he is still distributing jobs and buying handkerchiefs or whatever else may be required in the constituency of Carleton under favor of the government in the same old way. It only remains for some of the halcyon-journalists to inform a not disinterested public whether A. De Witt Foster, ex-M.P., is still buying "horses" for the millionaire in the same old way.

The Minneapolis Daily News thinks it is a good thing the United States is not prepared for war because in that event the army and navy would have been commended when President Wilson composed his note to Germany; and asks the News: "Could we expect the United States to be prepared for the time of 'A Hot Time' played 'on life and drum.' Not likely.
Nor to the tune of Jack Johnson's exploding in the collar and Em-penn bombs raining on the roof.
May it be suggested without offense, and simply as the remark of an onlooker who has no part to butt in, that the negotiations between Washington and Berlin were assured a 'pacific' tenor, not because the United States is not in arms but because Britain, France and Russia are in arms.
Belgium suggests rather strongly how Germany carries on 'negotiations' with a neutral country which stands in the way of its military plans when its hands are not already full.

tempt is being made to supply the tobacco is being sent to the front

Berlin, June 26.—An interesting document in connection with the present situation has been published in the Vorwärts in the shape of a full page appeal for peace emanating from the managing committee of the socialist democratic party in Germany. It asserts that although Germany was attacked by greatly superior forces she has not been able to sustain the war. The appeal declares that the government is not prepared to enter into peace negotiations, and that the socialist party is prepared to take the first step to bring peace. PTOMATINE POISONING IN FOOD WAS THE CAUSE; MANY ILL, NONE DEAD

Scores of Victims Were Dangerously Ill for Hours But Heroic Efforts of Two Physicians and Many Helpers Brought All Through Safely—400 Persons Were at Big Picnic—Samples of Food Are to Be Analyzed

Fifty-eight persons were poisoned at a big picnic held at Bon Accord on Friday. The poisoning resulted from something that was eaten at supper. No deaths resulted although scores of persons were dangerously ill during the night and several still are confined to their beds.

"It was ptomaine poisoning," said Dr. A. A. Nichols, of this city, who was called out to Bon Accord about 10 o'clock on Friday night. Dr. McKinnon, the local physician at Bon Accord, who had more cases than he could attend to, said the poisoning was not from the cream at all, though this has not been definitely established yet. Nearly all the patients were adults. Several cases were dangerous, but all of them are now all on the road to recovery today.

Celebrating Lodge Function.
The picnic that ended so disastrously was held under the auspices of the Brotherhood of American Youth. The order and its committee had a new lodge building and the building was finally opened. The picnic was held to celebrate the event. The festivities were so well planned that the picnic was enjoyed by every resident of the entire district for many miles around. There were four hundred persons here, a estimate, said Dr. Nichols, a Bon Accord doctor of the picnic, over long distance telephone Saturday morning. Half of Moraville was here and there were picnicers from the west from here to Edmonton and from Exeter and Nanaimo.

About six o'clock the hundreds of picnicers sat down to a big supper of good things provided by the housewives of the town and countryside. Everyone ate heartily and everyone was very happy having the best of times.

Scores Grew Violently Ill.
It was eight o'clock when the first victim of ptomaine showed signs of distress. At first it was thought to be nothing serious. But within the next half-hour dozens of persons began to grow violently ill.

"I looked about like the trenches after an attack of ptomaine," was the way Mr. Whitford described the scene. Victims of the poison were lying all around the grounds, groaning and vomiting. Dr. McKinnon, the local physician, soon had to handle more than full. Every few minutes a new victim of the poison was brought in. As the hours went by, the condition of some of those who came to the doctor's office was so serious that the doctor considered it advisable to send them to the hospital. One man, and so a long-distance call was sent in to Dr. Nichols.

Bad Night in Town.
Friday night was a wild and busy night for the little town of Bon Accord. Restaurants, the lively bar, private homes, even the sidewalks were crowded with sick persons. Patients were dressed in coats and blankets and made as comfortable as possible. Scores of those who had not been sick looked after their homes but many more stayed in the little town all night.

On Saturday a large majority of the patients were up and around, although still feeling the effects of the poison. Others still are in bed and one or two are in a rather dangerous condition, although no fatalities are considered. It is understood that an instruction from the health department, dated all the food left over from the supper has been being sent out and that it will be sent in to the provincial laboratory for analysis, in order to determine just what food contained the ptomaine poisoning.

The dead are: One, a farmer, who lived on the north side of the lake; one, a man, who lived on the south side of the lake; and one, a woman, who lived on the east side of the lake. The injured are: One, a man, who lived on the north side of the lake; one, a woman, who lived on the south side of the lake; and one, a child, who lived on the east side of the lake.

News of Surrounding District

GRAND. The project of reducing the high water level of the lake by straightening the channel of the outlet is the subject of a report by Messrs. E. H. Hilt and A. S. Hilt. The estimate of work to be done to do the work would cost $125,000. A great area of hay land, estimated at 10,000 acres would be reclaimed if the high water level of the lake could be kept down. A public meeting of the project has been called by the council to discuss prospective expenditures. Only one project was entered against the cost of construction of the lake outlet, which was held by Judge Noel—Roy Burns is to return to the management of the lake.

BIGGEST LABOR WAR OF RECENT YEARS BEGINS

General Shut-Out of Chicago Building Industry Has Gone Into Effect

20,000 WORKERS WILL BE THROWN OUT OF WORK

Employers' Answer to Vote of Carpenters Refusing to Arbitrate Strike

Chicago, June 28.—A general shut-out of Chicago building industry, which, it was said, will throw out of employment more than 20,000 workmen, went into effect today.

The shut-out was announced by contractors and labor leaders as the result of a vote of the general labor union in recent years. The action was taken in response to a demand for the representation of the allied building carpenters, who overwhiningly defeated the proposal to arbitrate action in dispute.

The contractors have been on strike since April 26.

When their agreement with the contractors' employers' association expired, the men had demanded a 10 per cent increase from 40 cents to 70 cents per week.

In means of shut-out, the employers intend to stop work on all independent contractors from getting into the city.

The shut-out will close all houses, yards, brick roads, and all kind mills, and in fact all sources of building construction supplies.

It was understood that the various industries will not be closed all at once as it is desired, it was said, to limit the consequences of industrial action and the possibility of a charge of insurrection.

TO THE CITIZENS OF EDMONTON

Edmonton, Monday, June 28.—Those citizens who, like myself, came to this city within the last five years and who make up the majority of our people, have experienced many things in common. This human experience is the greatest force in the world and has only one result—a revolution, the same being that the call of democracy has forced some one to stand up and say: "I am a citizen of this city and I have a right to be heard."
